

Generation One

1. BASE Kemp.

Notes: Kemp is an occupational surname bestowed upon a strong man who was a champion at jousting or wrestling. Derived from the Middle English word 'kempe,' which came from Old English 'cempa,' meaning 'warrior' or 'champion.'

Recorded in several spellings including Cemp, Kemp, Kempe, Kemppe, Kempt, the patronymic Kempson, and possibly others, this interesting surname is English.

It originates from the pre 7th century word 'cempa' meaning a champion, a title bestowed upon a champion of jousting or wrestling, or "ordinary warrior (or foot soldier to us nowadays) or soldier." The name is derived from the Roman word "campus", meaning a battlefield.

In Old English, the term "Kemp" designated a soldier engaged in single combat. The name Kemp is derived from the Saxon word "To Kemp" or combat, which in Norfolk [County, England] is retained to this day; a foot-ball match being called a camping or kemping; and thus in saxon a Kamper signifies a combatant, a champion, a man-at-arms. In some parts of Scotland, the striving of reapers in the harvest-fields is still called Kemping."

The Middle English word corresponds to Old English cempa and Old Norse kempa 'warrior'; both these go back to Germanic campo 'warrior', which is the source of the Dutch and North German name, corresponding to High German Kampf. In the Middle Ages a champion was a professional fighter on behalf of others; for example the King's Champion, at the coronation, had the duty of issuing a general challenge to battle to anyone who denied the king's right to the throne.

The name development since the First Millenium includes the following recordings: Edmund Kempe of the county of Norfolk in 1099, Alan Kempe in the Hundred Rolls of Suffolk in 1273, Ralph le Kemp of Sussex in 1296 and Ricardus Kempe of Yorkshire in the Poll Tax rolls of 1379. Early examples of recordings taken from the surviving church registers of Greater London include the christening of Abiell Kemp on December 14th 1590, at St. Margaret's Westminster; the christening of Mary Kempt, the daughter of Joseph Kempt at St Giles Cripplegate, on May 21st 1667, and the marriage of Mary Cempe, to James Asskins as spelt, at St James Clerkenwell on June 20th 1667. A coat of arms granted to the nameholders has the blazon of a red shield, charged with three gold garbs and a gold border engrailed. The motto "Lucem spero", translates as "I hope for light". The first recorded spelling of the family name is shown to be that of Eadulf Cempa,. This was dated 902 a.d, in the list of Old English Bynames for the county of Wiltshire", during the reign of King Edward the Elder, of England, 899 - 924.

Notes: · The "Harriet" passenger list listed Thomas (aged 32) and Maria (aged 29) Kemp arriving in Sydney on 11 June 1853 with their children, Ellen (aged 10), Sarah Anne (aged 4), George (aged 3) and Mary Jane (aged 10 months).

- Thomas Kemp's occupation is listed as shepherd.
- On the passenger list, Thomas's parents are listed as Thomas and Priscilla.
- On the passenger list, Maria's parents are listed as Stephen and Jane
- They paid 4 pounds for the trip for the entire family.
- They indicated their "Native place and county" as being Collingbourne, Wiltshire
- Alice Maud Mary Kemp's birth certificate (28 June 1867) indicated that Thomas (then 45 years) and Maria (then 43 years) were both born in Wiltshire, England and that they married in Wiltshire in 1848

Though I give little weight to it as the informant was a son-in-law who might have got it wrong, Maria Kemp's death certificate (23 November 1916) indicates her father's name was William (not Stephen) and that he was a "Malster" (?)

The 1936 census shows that Alice lived at 14 Withers Street, Arncliffe, together with Alma, Ernest and William.
